

The Government is committed to reducing net migration to tens of thousands over the course of this Parliament

