The English UK Annual Conference & AGM

The Midland Hotel, Manchester
Monday 11 - Tuesday 12 May 2015

Attendance at our 2015 annual conference and AGM is crucial.

We want members to have their say on the future direction of English UK, with opportunities to discuss our planned new strategy.

We'll also talk about the results of our first-ever survey of members, and introduce you to MHP, the public affairs company who will be helping us shape our profile with politicians and the media.

Our next conference is...

... essential for anyone who is passionate about the future of English UK and our English language teaching sector.

Our programme

The conference will open on Monday with an informal buffet lunch followed by a welcome address from our new Chair Sarah Cooper, a review of 2014 and the AGM (English UK member centres only). The day will close with a networking reception in Manchester's imposing Town Hall.

On Tuesday, specialist lawyer Nichola Carter will talk about Keeping Up With The Home Office. There will be practical sessions and presentations on legal changes affecting businesses, marketing, from some of English UK's specialist and regional groups and on how our markets are performing.

Who is it for?

Centre owners and directors, school principals, and senior managers in ELT centres.
