do you offer services to UK ELT centres?

Join the national association for UK ELT

Extend your reach with English UK corporate membership

Join the English UK family to reach top providers in the global ELT industry. Engage with over 400 of the UK's leading language centres and a growing number of study abroad agents.

Why join us?

English UK corporate members have many opportunities to promote services to language centres, agents and other industry providers at our events and through our website and direct mailings.

As the UK's largest and oldest ELT association, our members include privately owned language schools, educational trusts and charities, and language centres in further and higher education institutes. Their quality is assured through Accreditation UK, one of the world's most rigorous inspection schemes, which we manage jointly with the British Council.

We also work closely with stakeholders including the Department for International Trade, UKCISA, Universities UK, agent associations and industry groups to support and promote the UK as the world's leading English language learning destination and campaign for a positive business environment.

Are we eligible for English UK corporate membership?

Yes, if you provide services to the UK ELT sector. Eligible organisations include examination boards, insurance providers, IT and software companies, and student accommodation providers.

Interested?

If you're eligible, it's simple to apply:

- Complete our online application form
- Provide two references from English UK member centres you have worked with in the past 12 months
- Your application will be considered and approved by the English UK Board
- You will then be asked to pay your subscription fee.

What are the benefits?

English UK corporate membership includes a range of opportunities to promote your services to member centres and a wider industry audience – but that's not all. You'll get:

- Industry recognition, with use of the English UK corporate member logo
- Business promotion through our online corporate member directory and member facing newsletters
- Global industry insights, statistics and intelligence from our world-leading market research as well as regular news update
- Direct marketing opportunities to promote your services directly to member centres and partner agencies through targeted emails
- Stay connected with industry news bulletins, social media and face-to-face networking opportunities
- Discounted training sessions and conferences where you can boost your knowledge and develop business partnerships
- One free place at the English UK Annual Conference to receive key industry updates and connect with fellow members
- Discounted exhibition spaces at English UK overseas events, conferences and StudyWorld, our annual showcase promoting UK education to the world.
