

The Eddie Byers Fund

Information for applicants

The Eddie Byers Fund exists to enrich and support individuals and communities through English language teaching. It is a grant scheme that helps change lives through learning.

English is spoken by billions of people around the world. For many, learning English brings significant new opportunities in employment, education and travel – for many it is a life changing skill.

The Eddie Byers Fund therefore provides funding to create English language learning opportunities that might not otherwise be available and that would be transformative for individuals and their communities, whether by enabling employment, education, integration, teaching or more.

It was created in memory of the late chief executive of English UK, who was passionate about the transformative power of education. The fund also supports English UK's charitable mission to advance the education of international students in the English language.

Funding worth up to £2,500 per project (at the discretion of the fund committee) will be available each year. A maximum of £10,000 will be available for grant awards each year for an initial three years. Funding is available to UK registered charities only.

Eligibility

We are looking for projects from organisations that fulfil the following criteria.

The applicant must:

1. Be a UK registered charity
2. Be able to deliver the proposed project and impact reporting.

The project must:

1. Use English language teaching to improve the prospects and opportunities open to an individual and/ or their community
2. Be a specific activity, extra provision or items/ materials beyond those generally offered. General contributions to overheads and salaries are not eligible for funding.
3. Be non-discriminatory and support individuals regardless of religion, political affiliation and gender.
4. Not be possible without an Eddie Byers Fund grant.
