Key themes of CLIL:

- focus on content and competences
- centrality of thinking skills
- more critical appreciation of ‘communication’
- role of visual organisers
- enhancing teacher teamworking

– know
– want to know

CLIL is …

“... A dual-focused, learning and teaching approach in which a non-language subject is taught through a foreign language, with the dual focus being on acquiring subject knowledge and competences as well as competences in the foreign language.”

Georgiou, S. 2012. Reviewing the puzzle of CLIL. ELT Journal 66/4
CLIL Video (Primary)

- https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dFuCrxRoh0
- How motivated are the pupils?
- What visuals are used?
- Is the language an issue?
- How successful is the focus on content?
- How similar to when you were at school?
CLIL in primary: Pupils

- learn content (= concepts, competences via visuals)
  - planning skills
  - IT skills
  - problem-solving skills
  - groupwork skills
  - English
You’ve applied for one of the 10 Most Exciting Summer Jobs Program’s highlights: working as a hurricane co-pilot/tornado hunter. To get the job you have to hand in a short video of yourself, you will be interviewed, you will have to show that you know how to read and interpret climate charts and satellite images, and that you know your natural hazards inside out.

Team A will prepare for the interview conducted by team B. The interviews will be recorded and analysed. Then you will switch roles.

Students do research for a presentation on which types of instruments are most common in a country, what materials they are made from, when they first appeared, and what sort of music they are used in today.
Students look at the household objects made in centuries before machine/computers in different countries and evaluate the time and energy involved, then document changes to evaluate the most significant improvements.

CLIL benefits for learners

1 creates conditions for naturalistic language learning
2 provides a purpose for classroom language use
3 has positive effect on language learning through focus on meaning rather than form
4 drastically increases exposure to the target language

Key CLIL concepts

- The 4 C’s: Content, Cognition, Communication, Culture
- LOTS and HOTS
- Visual/Graphic organisers to scaffold learning
Subject knowledge PLUS:

- Language of subject topics
- Language of subject processes
- Intercultural awareness

Content-based knowledge is not isolated from linguistic competences = subject literacy
Learning vs DOing

At school, did you ...

• read about history or DO history?
• learn geography or DO geography?
• learn sciences or learn to THINK scientifically?
• learn about other cultures or learn to UNDERSTAND other cultures?
Cognition

Engaging learners through higher order thinking, problem solving and knowledge processing
LOTS vs HOTS

ORIGINAL TAXONOMY (1956) ---> REVISED TAXONOMY (2001)

- Knowledge
- Comprehension
- Analysis
- Application
- Synthesis
- Evaluation

- Remember (I know)
- Understand (I comprehend)
- Apply (I can use it)
- Analyze (I can be logical)
- Evaluate (I can judge)
- Create (I can plan)

‘Of the approximately 80,000 questions asked on average annually by teachers, 80 per cent are at the lowest level of thinking – factual knowledge.’

Gall 1984; Watson/Young 1986 in Mehisto et al. 2008 In Oliver Meyer: Towards quality-CLIL: successful planning and teaching strategies
Why is teaching EFL like a pizza?
Did you have these ideas?

It’s lovely
Doesn’t suit everyone
Different sorts
Popular
International
Various ingredients
Looks good
Can go off
Needs preparation
Practice makes perfect
‘Learning to use language and using language to learn’

Using language:
• to learn and mediate ideas and values
• to construct new skills
• to make personal meanings that matter

= Face-to-face and multi-media literacies
Visual/Graphic organisers

Make learning visual: Tree diagrams

What could a tree diagram look like for...

Holidays
Animals
Sports
Government
Visual organisers: summary

- Easy to understand = boost confidence
- Provide clear guidelines
- Memorable
- Communicative
- Personalisable
- Creative
- Can be tied to key structures
- Flexible
- Ideal homework

... And fun!
